

1.1.2 - The institution adheres to the academic calendar including for the conduct of Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE)

The Academic Calendar is an essential document for the institution that outlines the schedule of various academic and co-curricular activities to be undertaken by the institution in that specific academic session for keeping the students as well as faculty members on the intended track. The institution adheres to the academic calendar for the conduct of Continuous Internal Evaluation. A tentative calendar for the semester is prepared in advance. The calendar highlights all important dates and academic events such as the Admission process, Commencement of classes, Conduct of midterm tests and university semester examinations and Duration of the ODD/EVEN semester, etc. A copy is issued to all Heads of department, coordinators, and deans. The academic calendar is posted on the college website. It is also accessible to the students through college prospectus and departmental notice boards. Additionally, departments are required to create their academic calendars and schedules for their departmental academic and extracurricular activities. The academic calendar of Guru Nanak Dev University is strictly followed by the institution. Due to COVID -19, pandemic university exams were conducted in online mode as per directions of the Punjab Government. Online Examination Committee has also been formed. The committee consists of the Principal, Dean Academics, Coordinator of the internal quality assurance cell (IQAC), and faculty members from different departments. The schedule of the dates of the online semester examination, online internal assignments, online practical examination, and online viva-voce is adhered to as mentioned in the academic calendar of Guru Nanak Dev university.
